Young Economists workshop: "Publications and Career paths for Agricultural Economists"

Sessione Giovani Economisti "Pubblicazioni e carriera per gli economisti agrari"

We are happy to share that more than fifty participants (both young researchers and more experienced professors) were present to the event! We warmly thank all participants and inform that all ppt presentations will be soon available on the AIEAA website, in the members section.

PhD Network

In order to support training in the agricultural and applied economics fields and improve the collaboration between the various Italian PhD school on agricultural and applied economics, AIEAA promotes the sharing of information about seminars and short courses, which are suggested by the AIEAA members.
